Dr. Abustan is an amazing professor. The layout/organization of WGSS 358, the assigned readings, the flexibility of participation, flexible and guided writing assignments, and most of all their lectures and teaching were all excellent. I learned so much from this course and so appreciate how we were encouraged to engage with the material and participate/connect with each other.

I wouldn't change a thing. I really loved this course and love learning from Dr. Paul.

The professor was extremely kind and accommodating. The professor highlighted the importance of accessibility in the class and normalized it. The professor also encouraged us and taught us how to advocate for ourself and our needs. I've never had a professor do that before. The professor uplifts voices not only in the taught content, but also uplifts voices of those in the class. The professor encouraged us to question what we read and learned, as well as think about who has been left out of history. The content was engaging and inclusive. All assigned work made sense, no busy work.

Dr. Abustan is an absolute gem and deserves to be paid more. Representation matters so much and seeing a professor who has shared experiences similar to my own was such a wonderful experience. Dr. Abustan is the only professor I've ever had with a similar identity as my own. Dr. Abustan has made me feel seen and supported, which quite frankly, has not been my usual experience at Western. Western has been talking a lot about diversity, equity, and inclusion, but has not done much to support professors and students of color and marginalized identities. Western needs to do better in supporting marginalized and oppressed students and faculty. Dr. Abustan would be a fantastic addition to Western and deserves to be offered a full time tenured track position. Western needs more amazing BIPOC professors like Dr. Abustan. Dr. Abustan is easily the best professor I have ever had the privilege of learning from and it is so clear how loved they are by all of their students. That is not an easy accomplishment especially considering this class is fully online.

I loved every single aspect of this course. Dr. Abustan is the most amazing professor I have ever had, and I can say without a doubt that they care deeply for each and every student in their classes. I learned so much about not only women of color in history, but also ways to be more inclusive and imagine a brighter future for all. The structure of the course was phenomenal and catered to every learning style. Staying in the same small group all quarter fostered deep connections with others in class and created a welcoming atmosphere. I felt comfortable and that my opinions and ideas really mattered. Dr. Abustan is an absolute gem, and has inspired me to be a better person and lead a life of advocacy and action. I am incredibly grateful to have had an opportunity to be in this class and learn from them, and can't wait for another quarter in their class. Thank you for everything!!

I really enjoyed Dr. Paul's course. They did an amazing job of creating an inclusive environment as well as being new material for me to explore. I enjoyed how he allowed us to have small group time which allowed those of us not as comfortable speaking in a large group to have a wonderful conversation.

I honestly wish that every class was modeled the way Professor Abustan's was. The deep regard for community and care was always the first priority in this class, and they cultivated an extremely safe environment to learn. I wish I could have met them in person! The consistent setup week by week was very helpful to me, and it was the first time I had a class that gave the choice between speaking aloud and or on a google doc. Dr. P would respond to all of our thoughts/questions with kind affirmations and suggestions.

What changes could be made to improve the teaching or the content of this course?

None. I hope more professors start valuing humanity above academia as Dr. P does.

The inclusivity and openness of Dr. Abustan was particularly helpful. I felt respected for my time, effort and abilities and felt that Dr. Abustan had a valuable understanding of the challenges students face. I wish more professor recognized how hardship can challenge a students education and I felt that the professor offered many opportunities to raise a grade on our own merit that I have not seen in many other courses outside of WGSS department.

More time for discussion would have been appreciated. I love that Dr. Abustan allowed us to have easier days by watching a film together, but I would have happily watched the film beforehand so that I could have participated in a longer discussion.

Dr. Abustan is an amazing professor who seems to value individual experiences and integrates them into their course. I felt seen, heard, and supported by Dr. P and feel they offer a representative of what more instructors in higher education should offer. I thank them for their understanding, humbleness, and personal and academic knowledge that they have offered. What a great course!

I thought that Dr. P was a great professor. I also liked our format of learning and how we looked at media/films, read theory, had discussion posts, etc. The course definitely felt like a safe space and Dr. P played a big part in making this happen. I also liked the format of participating everyday so that we could either share verbally, or non-verbally in the google doc.

I enjoyed this course a lot! I appreciated that there was little to no pressure to talk with large or small groups. The readings for this class were great too! It was great to read these texts from different communities and to learn from their experiences. The activities we did helped us reach beyond the classroom to think about ideal worlds and hopes for our system, and it was a great experience.

What changes could be made to improve the teaching or the content of this course?

I would not make any changes to the course; if it were to ever be taught in-person then it would need to adapt slightly but it was a great class.
